Thank you for your interest in attending the 4th Annual SDPRC Latino Health Conference: Advocacy, the Environment and You: Usted y la Promoción de su Salud y de su Medioambiente. The conference is aimed at increasing the understanding of advocacy and the built environment for promoting physical activity and health among Latinos. The one-day conference will be held on June 23, 2009 at the Multi-Cultural Center at San Ysidro Middle School in San Ysidro, California.

The San Diego Prevention Research Center (SDPRC), a five-year project funded by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, is an interdisciplinary academic-community partnership of San Diego State University, University of California, San Diego, and San Ysidro Health Center. The SDPRC is committed to conducting research and education to promote physical activity and improve the health of Latino populations.

Representatives from community organizations, health agencies, and schools are welcomed to participate. Representatives from the same organization may come as a team or individually and during the conference will be grouped with other participants to work together during the day.

Since last year's conference reached maximum capacity and we anticipate that happening again this year, it is important that you follow the registration process as follows:

1. Complete Pre-Conference Activity #1 and Participant Registration form (if more than one representative from your organization plans on attending the conference, please choose one representative to be "team leader" and gather information for all representatives coming to the conference in the Registration Form). Please, send only one Registration form per organization.
2. Print a copy of the Pre-Conference Activity #1 to bring to the conference.
3. Submit a copy of the Participant Registration form via email to: Dayana Chanson at dchanson@ucsd.edu or via fax to: 858-534-9404 Attn: Dayana Chanson
4. Participants will receive a confirmation letter via email (at this point, we recommend booking a hotel room if you are an out-of-town participant. Please note that the conference is a one-day event).

The attached materials provide further details about the 4th Annual SDPRC Conference. In addition all forms and materials can be downloaded from our website at www.sdprc.org. If you have any questions, please contact Dayana Chanson at dchanson@ucsd.edu. Please return your Participant Registration form as soon as possible as space is limited and registration will close after maximum capacity is reached. We appreciate your cooperation and look forward to seeing you in June!

Sincerely,

Dayana Chanson
